

BIO

Midnight Cry is a Christmas band based in Spokane, WA. This Christmas is their seventh year playing concerts in the area. The music they play is loved by all ages and their concerts are completely family-friendly. They play Symphonic (Orchestral) Rock, closely following the styles of the Trans-Siberian Orchestra. Some of the songs played are actually covers of their material. Most of the other music is arranged and orchestrated by other band members.

There are eight members in the band: two keyboardists, two guitar players, a bassist, a drummer, and two singers. The youngest member is sixteen years old and oldest is twenty-eight. Five of the members are siblings, two from one family and three from another. These five grew up together in church and have now branched out to different churches and homes in the Spokane area.

Midnight Cry does all their own recording, editing, mastering, production, & promotion. They have released one album (a CD/DVD combo package) from a recording session held around Christmas 2008. It is available by donation...the band wants to make sure everyone has access to the music even if they can't afford the price of a normal CD. In the past they have also held benefit concerts for a child suffering from a serious disease whose parents could not afford the health care he needed.
